

Our mission: to raise the standard of global leadership

Our aim is to facilitate the use of evidence-based insights to help solve leadership challenges

Diversity: return on inclusion

The potential of diversity to lift the bottom line in business is high. But accessing the 'return on inclusion' can be difficult.

We train leaders to leverage the power of diversity and unlock the benefits of inclusion.

Leading effective organisations

The most effective organisations are ones where individuals are nurtured, where work is meaningful and where the company adds value to its community and wider society.

We offer guiding principles to design, build and sustain exceptional organisations.

The future of leadership

Fundamental changes in demographics, geopolitics and access to natural resources will shape our future world and the way we work.

We help leaders to identify the values and approaches that make a real difference for future generations.

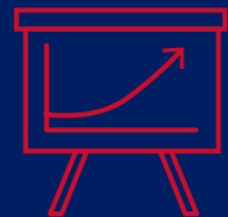

Leading ethically: principles into practice

Ethical businesses do not run themselves. It takes ethical leaders to create a responsible, sustainable world.

We explore how ethical leadership can create long-term value for all stakeholders and nurture our most precious resource: the earth.

£1.5 million in philanthropic support has enabled us to make significant progress in our key activities.

The generosity of our donors and engaged communities fuels our efforts in:

Funding path-breaking faculty and PhD research

We believe rigorous research creates value. Since our inception in 2014, we have funded over 40 faculty research projects. We have also conducted extensive research on global leadership challenges, boardroom trends and board behaviours and dynamics.

Translating research findings into thought leadership

We support leaders in developing their ability to deliver in their unique operating framework by creating practical resources that disseminate the actionable insights of our evidence-based research.

Shaping educational content and informing policy

We develop, train and inspire leaders at all stages of their leadership journey by contributing to Executive Education and degree programmes and working with professional and regulatory bodies.

Creating an events platform that convenes prominent leaders

We create opportunities for students, Executive Education participants, alumni, and the wider business community to come together to learn and share insights.
